

SCIENCE SUPERHEROES!

Poppy Protein

Poppy Protein is a superhero helper in bodies and in science labs. Proteins act as building blocks, helping people grow, heal, and stay strong every day. Scientists make special proteins using friendly bacteria in the lab, creating important medicines and vaccines. Poppy can do amazing jobs, from fighting germs to fixing cells. Proteins keep the body working and help doctors discover new ways to treat diseases.

